

Come
and Sing
Scotland

Come and Sing Handel's Messiah a thousand voices wanted

Conductor: Christopher Bell

Organist: Morley Whitehead

Saturday 26 September 2009
The Usher Hall, Edinburgh

Rehearsal: 2.00 pm

Performance: 7.30 pm

TICKET PRICES: Singer: £15 (conc £12) Audience: £10 (conc £8)

• Handel's Messiah • Christopher Bell •

• The Mighty Usher Hall Organ • A Thousand Voices •

How could you resist?! Book now to sing or listen.

2009 is the 250th anniversary of the death of George Frideric Handel. For our Come and Sing Scotland event this year we have chosen to sing Messiah, much loved by singers all over the world and always a challenge!

Christopher Bell will direct in his usual inimitable fashion. The rehearsal will whizz along and the performance with the massed voices and the Usher Hall's magnificent organ played by Morley Whitehead is sure to produce a stunning concert. In addition, the performance will feature an impressive line up of young Scottish soloists – your chance to hear the stars of the future.

Come and Sing Scotland's last event in the Usher Hall (Verdi Requiem in 2005) was a sell out so

BOOK EARLY TO AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT.

Please return this booking form with your remittance to:

Ruth Townsend, Come and Sing Scotland, 15 Croftburn Drive, Glasgow G44 5JG (07816 679815)

Further details will be sent to you with your tickets towards the end of July.

Tickets	Quantity	Cost
Singers @	£15.00
Concessions @	£12.00
Hire of score* @	£1.50
Audience @	£10.00
Concessions @	£8.00
	Total

* a limited number of scores will be available

Name:

Address:

.....

..... Postcode:

Telephone: e-mail:

Circle appropriate voice type (if singing) S1 S2 A1 A2 T1 T2 B1 B2

Please make cheques payable to Come and Sing Scotland and enclose a SAE for your tickets.

Please tick if you do not wish to be informed of future Come and Sing Scotland events or other events conducted/directed by Christopher Bell.