RUSSIAN AND JEWISH SONG WITH POLINA SKOVORODA

14 May · 10:00 - 16:00

North Mundham Village Hall

School Lane, N.Mundham,

Chichester, United Kingdom

We are encouraged in parts of the songs to improvise and invent. That is when my soul speaks and I feel my heart grow. Polina's teaching is soulful, sublime, rousing, ethereal, liberating...

member of the B&H Russian choir

Polina teaches Hassidic Nigunim - age old Jewish songs without words and East European Jewish songs in Yiddish.

Her Russian song repertoire covers ritual calendar songs for pagan holidays, exorcism and sibylline song, circle dances, wedding songs, weeping songs all with correct attention to history and style.

No knowledge of languages or singing experience necessary

all welcome

Drinks will be provided. Please bring something for a shared pot luck lunch.

A CD with audiofiles, texts, translations and sheet music of the workshop songs will be available.

£15 to book please email or phone roland@selseypc.net 01243 601183

Polina is an experienced choir leader both here and formerly in the Soviet Union. She is also a member of the Natural Voice Practitioners Network whose teachers believe that everyone can sing and that nobody should be excluded from making music.

Come along and let yourself go for the day, whether you sing in a choir or not. To see and hear Polina in action have a look at her website: <http://www.polinasherpherd.co.uk> particularly the upbeat reviews from her choir members!

Directions: Village Hall is just behind North Mundham School on B2166 between Runcton and Hunston, South of the A27 Chichester Bypass and has its own car park.
