

A detailed illustration of the interior of St George's Chapel, Windsor Castle. The image shows the long nave with its high, vaulted ceiling featuring intricate fan vaulting. The walls are lined with wooden stalls and pews, and the floor is covered in a patterned carpet. The lighting is warm and golden, highlighting the architectural details and the ornate carvings of the choir screen at the far end.

Petros
SINGERS

Singing Workshop A Royal Occasion

Led by James Vivian
Director of Music
St George's Chapel
Windsor Castle

Saturday 2nd March 2019
2:00 to 6:00pm
registration from 1:30pm
St Peter's Church
Black Lion Lane, W6 9BE

tickets £20 (£15 concessions/under 28s)
includes loan scores and refreshments
all tickets must be booked in advance
www.wegotickets.com/petrossingers

Image: Wikimedia Commons.
Thomas Sutherland (1785-1835)
after Charles Wild (1781-1835)
St Georges Chapel from the Altar

details correct when printed December 2018

www.petrossingers.org
musical director Richard Bannan registered charity number 1074643

Join Petros Singers for an afternoon celebrating 400 years' worth of music written for and performed at the great royal occasions. The workshop will be led by James Vivian who, as one of the few people to have conducted at a major royal ceremonial event in recent years, and certainly the only person to have conducted at two, is uniquely qualified. James will lead singers through a selection of music associated with royal weddings, funerals and coronations including Parry's I Was Glad and Handel's Zadok the Priest, amongst other favourites.

James Vivian is Director of Music at St George's Chapel, Windsor Castle where he conducts the famous choir in its daily liturgical schedule, in addition to performances on television, radio and in concert. Prior to this he was Director of Music at The Temple Church, London, having held the AH Mann Organ Scholarship at King's College, Cambridge. As both conductor and organist he has released recordings on many labels including Decca, Sony BMG and Hyperion.

He has also appeared at festivals such as The Lincoln Festival in NYC and the BBC Proms. He continues to be much in demand as a recitalist throughout Europe and the United States.

Petros Singers is a well-regarded auditioned chamber choir with a reputation for high-quality singing and innovative programmes. We perform a wide-ranging and diverse repertoire and collaborate with top-class orchestras and soloists in West and Central London.

Richard Bannan, our musical director, is a baritone, conductor and arranger. He sings with many of the country's leading vocal ensembles, including the Choir of St George's Chapel, Windsor Castle.

Tickets

£20 (£15 concessions/under 28s) includes loan scores and refreshments
all tickets must be booked in advance
www.wegotickets.com/petrossingers (no booking fee)
enquiries to tickets@petrossingers.org

Getting there

St Peter's Church is within 10 minutes' walk of both tube stations and there is free street parking nearby.

